A

Absorption, of inorganic nutrients, relation of hydrogen ion concentration to, 515
of nitrate, by young orange trees, weekly, 366
of rubidium bromide, by barley plants, 411
spectra, interlaboratory comparison, chlorophyll and Weigert's solutions, 666
of pure carotenoid pigments, 331
Accumulation, of rubidium bromide, by barley plants, 411
Acid, ascorbic, of Sudan grass, efficiency of nitrogenous fertilizers in increasing yield, 645 of tomato plants, effect of potassium iodide on content and growth, 465
Acidity, of soils, in relation to lime-induced chlorosis in citrus, 35 subsoil, effect on growth of seedling black locust and green ash, 7 Acids, organic, in plant tissues, effects of pretreatment on estimation of, 69
total organic, in plant saps, liquid extraction method for determination of, 296 Action, auxin, mechanism of, 682
mass, law of, and enzymes, 686
Activity, specific biological, of tobacco mosaic virus, influenced by age of lesion, nitrogen supply, 210
Adsorption analysis, chromatographic, HAROLD H. STRAIN, 149
